

G R E A T G E O R G I A

Pollinator Census

Join the Camden County Extension Office for a morning of fun learning about pollinators! We will have a brief presentation and discussion on different types of pollinators before taking part in the census in the Extension Office's new native plant garden. After the census, there will be a presentation on native plants for pollinators and each participant will have the opportunity to make and take a bee bath to use in their landscape. In addition we will have a native plant and native seed swap! If you don't have native plants to share — no worries — we should have some extras! (Native plants and seeds only please.)

When: Friday August 20th, 9am-12pm

Where: Camden County Extension Office

1409 Georgia Ave. Woodbine

This event is free but please register at https://ugeorgia.ca1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_7QYFdtQa4zJkojY.

There are a limited number of spaces available so please attend if you register!

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

EXTENSION

Camden County