

South Carolina & Georgia Strawberry Production Webinar Series

presented by

COOPERATIVE EXTENSION
College of Agriculture, Forestry and Life Sciences

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
EXTENSION

Register

[https://bit.ly/
StrawberrySeries](https://bit.ly/StrawberrySeries)

Course Titles

1. Weed Management in Plasticulture Strawberries
2. What We've Learned about Neopest
3. Managing Cold Events

South Carolina & Georgia Strawberry Production Webinar Series

presented by

COOPERATIVE EXTENSION
College of Agriculture, Forestry and Life Sciences

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
EXTENSION

Weed Management in Plasticulture Strawberries

Register

[https://bit.ly/
StrawberrySeries](https://bit.ly/StrawberrySeries)

Course opens September 20

Course closes October 20

Clemson University Weed Scientist, Matt Cutulle, discusses strategies for pre-plant, post-plant, and row middle weed management in strawberry fields.

South Carolina & Georgia Strawberry Production Webinar Series

presented by

COOPERATIVE EXTENSION
College of Agriculture, Forestry and Life Sciences

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
EXTENSION

What We've Learned about Neopest

Register

[https://bit.ly/
StrawberrySeries](https://bit.ly/StrawberrySeries)

Course opens September 27

Course closes October 27

University of Florida Plant Pathologist, Natalia Perez, discusses what we know about Neopestalotiopsis of strawberries and provides tips for managing this new disease.

South Carolina & Georgia Strawberry Production Webinar Series

presented by

COOPERATIVE EXTENSION
College of Agriculture, Forestry and Life Sciences

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
EXTENSION

Managing Cold Events

Register

[https://bit.ly/
StrawberrySeries](https://bit.ly/StrawberrySeries)

Course opens October 4
Course closes November 4

Mark Hoffmann, North Carolina State Small Fruit Specialist, discusses different types of cold events and proper techniques for protecting strawberries.